This talk summarises the rationale and accompanying evidence underpinning the current recommendations for cholesterol screening in the population. Specific issues addressed include non-fasting lipids, non-HDL, cholesterol/HDL ratio, familial causes of dyslipidaemia, biological source of variation and frequency of testing.